Our Veep Hopefuls List Qualifications

Kirkham and Heber are candidates in the race for vice president of athletics. Running for the vice presidential seat are Evans and Louise Merrill. Merrill says he has solutions to student problems and new ideas to institute if elected. He will hold a formal reception Wednesday evening to the week members of the Family Living Center dinner, and invites students to discuss problems with him.

He will open platforms for inter-entertainment and a variety of decorations and improvements for the new year. He also plans a storeroom of materials and the purchasing of materials in bulk to reduce cost of decorations and price of dance tickets.

Thompson includes in his platform better intermission programs at dances which would include a great deal of Student Program Bureau talent. He plans Campus lawns will be watered each day and each night, therefore, candidates are advised by Elections Chairman Max Pitcher that they purchase plastic covers for one and three-fourths cents a square foot at Utah Timber and Coal Company. Cost of the plastic will not be included in the financial statements of candidates, he said.

to improve refreshments and decorations at dances and include a variety of lighting effects to create some atmosphere for dancing.

Thompson also plans a fairer apportionment of funds from dance tickets rather than subdividing such a great extent that only a minority of students attend dances.

Evans would like to see student assemblies improved next year through the use of new lighting equipment, equipment to darken the fieldhouse automatically, an improved sound system and an advisory committee of graduate drama, music and speech students to assist in assembly production.

He would like to see more newspaper publicity for students in the Student Program Bureau and a large display board with pictures and information on performers where students could view prospective talent for all types of programs.

Miss Merrill would like to build a complete structure on the foundation that has been laid, making improvements in lighting facilities, a larger budget for assembly production, more emphasis on lighting and makeup through covering skyights, better publicity for lyceums, and clearer understanding with on-campus and off-campus Program Bureau activities.

She also feels that BYU could benefit through participating in broader exchange program.

From Tickets On Sale

Tickets for the Junior Prom are on sale Tuesday and Wednesday in Smith Family Living Center. Max Pitcher, ticket chairman, urged students to purchase tickets before all the good refreshment times are gone.
